Pastors' Perspective

In Psalm 46:5, God promises His abiding Presence, His divine Protection, and His unshakable Peace to Jerusalem and to each one of us, His children. We are now the spiritual Jerusalem in which He dwells. He is with us always, surrounding and shielding us from every attack of the enemy so that we will not be destroyed.

From the wilderness to the Cross, God has chosen to dwell among His people. First, He walked with Israel in the desert. Then He came to be with us as Emmanuel—God with us.

And now, through the finished work of Christ, He lives within us as our Saviour, Protector and Defender. What a joy and privilege it is to live in the reality of these promises today! As we walk faithfully, obediently, and with full commitment to God, we can continue to enjoy the fullness of His presence and peace in our lives here and now.

Today, on Father's Day, we joyfully honour all fathers for their loving, sacrificial, and devoted role within the family. In God's perfect design, fathers and mothers together form the foundation of the family. Every Christian father is called to reflect the heart of our Heavenly Father by leading with love, providing for his household, and offering himself daily for the well-being of his family. Their commitment is a living testimony of God's love, and today we bless them and pray they are filled with His grace, wisdom, and anointing to continue leading their families with strength and godly character.

We also extend heartfelt appreciation to our Sunday School Department, under the leadership of Sister Grace, for their incredible outreach through Vacation Bible School. Their dedication has touched the lives of children across various locations in the Greater Delhi area. We pray that the seeds of God's Word sown into these young hearts will take deep root and grow into a fruitful life in Christ.

Finally, we give thanks and praise to God for His healing touch upon Sister Edlin Jash and Sister Judy Matthew following their recent surgeries. Our prayers have been answered, and we rejoice in the miracles God has performed, enabling them to continue serving Him faithfully within the church.

Serving you joyfully,

Pastors Robert and Patricia Jeyaraj

Fatherhood and Faith : Raising children in God's instruction

"Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." — Ephesians 6:4

Today, it is not uncommon to encounter fathers in the church who are either passive—leaving the task of parenting largely to mothers—or absent, preoccupied with work or personal pursuits when it comes to raising their children in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. As a father of two, I am reminded of Apostle Paul's words in Ephesians 6:4, which powerfully call me to embrace my responsibility:

A father's role in discipline is vital to a child's growth and well-being. Discipline should always be administered with love, not frustration or anger. At its core, discipline is an expression of love. Through correction and guidance, we help steer our children onto the right path, enabling them to grow into responsible, God-fearing individuals.

Children need instruction because obedience does not come naturally. It must be taught. In light of our human sinful nature, children are inclined toward rebellion and must be shaped by the truth of God's Word. Fathers are called to take this duty seriously, which often requires setting aside personal agendas, plans, or pastimes for the sake of their children's spiritual formation.

The discipline and instruction we provide help nurture strong character, self-control, and healthy moral values. They foster a deeper understanding of God's will, encourage resilience in the face of life's challenges, and shape how children build relationships—anchored in respect for God's authority and boundaries. Most importantly, these efforts draw our children into a closer relationship with God. The greatest example we can offer our children is Jesus Himself—a child who listened to His parents' instruction.

Happy Father's Day to all the wonderful and faithful fathers, both biological and spiritual!

A Father's heart

A few years back I was watching my children from a distance working tirelessly on birthday cards they were making for my birthday. I was fascinated by the efforts they were putting in to give me the best. I could already see the torn edges of the card, the colours spread everywhere and the misspelt words but when those little soiled messy hands placed the cards in my hand, the joy was indescribable. I thought of how our Heavenly Father always welcomes our feeble efforts to please Him with a joyous reception. My journey as a father to two amazing kids has been one of knowing the FATHER's HEART and reflecting the FATHER's HEART.

Our children will form part of their concept of God the Father through us - their earthly fathers. This dignity and responsibility as fathers is enormous but the joy of living this out is amazing. In our gift of self to our children, we begin to reflect the FATHER's HEART.

Being fully present is probably one of the greatest gift we can give our children as Fathers. There are so many things that compete for our attention. In the midst of everything, let us intentionally choose to be present.

As fathers, let us invest time before the throne of God in detailed heart wringing prayers for the lives and godliness of our children.

The key to moulding our children is to be moulded ourselves first. Unless we let our FATHER GOD mould us, we will not be able to properly mould our own.

We are Fathers on Duty raising Warriors of Faith!

Fathers who reflect The Father

A true father is more than a man- he is a mirror. His life reflects not only his own values, but the heart of the Father above. On this Father's Day, we pause to honour men who have embraced not just the title of "dad," but the sacred calling to be fathers after God's own heart.

A Godly father walks with purpose. He does not chase applause or power, but lives to glorify the One who entrusted him with the gift of family. Like my Dad, a father who has always encourage us to live by God's ways and to do all things for God's glory alone. He helped lay the foundation for a man after God's own heart.

Godly fathers understand that legacy isn't built in a day-it's built in the daily. It's in bedtime prayers, patient correction, hard work done quietly, and moments of mercy when it would be easier to respond with anger. It's in showing humility when he's wrong and courage when it's hard to lead.

The father after God's heart is not perfect, but he is faithful. He knows that his highest calling is not to raise successful children, but surrendered ones-children who know that love of God because they've seen it first in their father's eyes.

To all the fathers who reflect the Father. Thank you.

The world needs your strength, your softness, your prayers, and your presence. You are more than a man. You are a vessel of grace.

David Benjamin Joshua

Thank you, Dad — our silent hero

I love my father. I'm thankful to God for giving a wonderful father. I admire how mentally and physically strong he was when my mom was sick. It's really amazing, how he was able to manage everything with a smile on his face!

Thanks to him - me and my sister are able to pursue each and every one of our dreams without a problem.

To my father who has always given his all!

Home church service of GCLC: A new beginning

The home church service of GCLC started at brother Manmath and sister Rebeka's house on Easter Sunday this year. The services started with two families along with our pastoral team and later three more sisters joined the church service. God is multiplying this small church service in Laxmi Nagar area. Even as Rebeka and Manmath started the home church last month, their journey started much earlier. In 2015, when they were new to GCLC, a prophecy was spoken over them that people would come to know the Lord through their lives. For a while, nothing seemed to unfold. But in 2018, after much prayer and at the request of an UESI staff, they started a Bible Study in their home.

Faithfulness and obedience

Initially, only one person attended, and discouragement crept in. Yet, they sensed the Lord asking them to remain faithful. In obedience, they continued—and in time, the Lord began to move. Their landlord's daughter, Gursharan, had earlier experienced deliverance from oppressive dreams through a time of prayer held in their home by members of the church. Deeply impacted, she began to long for her sister and family to also come to know the Lord.

In a remarkable confirmation, both Rebekah and Gursharan had the same dream—of Gursharan's sister accepting Christ and preaching His Word. After much prayer and consistent reaching out, the sister, along with others, began attending the Bible Study. Slowly but steadily, God began to grow their small group.

Encouragement from Senior Pastor

Witnessing their faithfulness and spiritual fruit, Rev Robert Jeyaraj (Senior Pastor – GCLC) encouraged them to start a home church. With prayer and God's guidance, Rebekah and Manmath were appointed as lay pastors, and on 20th April, their home church officially began.

Their desire is to see many souls being added to God's kingdom—and they are confident that as they continue to walk in obedience and persevere in prayer, the Lord will not only build His Church through them but also do far more than they could ever ask or imagine. Amen
